Dr. Gunilla Dahlberg

Professor of Early Childhood Education, Stockholm Institute of Education, Stockholm, Sweden

Professor Dahlberg is a leading international scholar in the area of social welfare policy for young children and their families and in the area of identifying the theoretical and policy implications of a ‘postmodern’ view of children’s development. She is one of the leading international authorities in the Reggio Emilia Approach to early education and Director of the Reggio Emilia Institute in Stockholm. She is a principal architect of Sweden’s national policy concerning early childhood education and social policy and has recently been appointed a member of the Swedish Agency for School Development.